TENNIS PLAYER VISITING WEST

(By Associated Press.) Feb. 1.—Miss Eleanor Goss of New York, second in the women's national tennis singles list and holder of the national amateur championship with Miss Helen Zinderstein of Boston, is here on her first visit to the west.

Exhibition matches with Miss Helen Baker, Pacific coast champion, Miss Anita Myers, former coast champion, and Mrs. J. C. Cushing of Berkeley are being arranged.

Last season Miss Goss lost twice by narrow margins to Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, national singles champion. In the Metropolitan tournament at New York she won the first set from Mrs. Wightman, 6-4 and had 4-0 on the second when Mrs. Wightman pulled out ahead by changing from driving tactics to a steady chop to Miss Goss' back hand.

In the national women's singles Mrs. Wightman took the first set from Miss Goss 6-2, but the latter won the second 6-4 and led 4-0 in the third. From this point on Mrs. Wightman won all the games in the match.

Miss Goss is the guest of Mrs. Whitlaw Reid of Milborne south of San Francisco.

BARKING DOG SETS THE PACE

(By Associated Press.) ANTON, Idaho, Feb. 21.—"Tud" Goss, winner of the Ashton, Idaho, derby in 1917 and 1919, is dependent on a barking shepherd to spend the other evenings on his team at English affairs, when he enters this winter race tomorrow.

"I take a barking dog on the team to kill the race," said Kent Goss, who was the shepherd at the race, "and the dog sets the pace of the race." The purpose of a barking dog is a few race.

For the first time a woman will enter the race this year. She is Miss Goss, otherhand. She weighs 120 pounds, and is five feet five inches tall. She runs her bark on the 4th of July as leader of her team from members of which have made the race before.

AMUSEMENTS

MURRAH FOR LARRY SEMON, BUTLER TONIGHT.

The much heralded, much talked of, greatly boosted Larry Semon arrived in town this morning, and will be seen at the Butler tonight in one of his famous comedies, entitled "Between the Acts." What's that? Who is Larry Semon? Why, he's Charlie Chaplin's only rival—that's all, so whatever you do, or don't do, be sure and not miss the first of this great comedian's productions to be shown in Tonopah—for it's a knockout.

The other feature on today's bill is Madge Kennedy, in the Goldwyn five-reel production entitled "The Blooming Angel," which is a story of college days filled with sparkling comedy and real human characters.

The story was written by Wallace Irwin and ran as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post, and is the first of Mr. Irwin's stories to be pictured in the picture Miss Kennedy has the role of a fair co-ed, which gives her unique comedy talents ample opportunity for display.

It is a nice, clean, wholesome, human, lovable story, filled with comedy from beginning to end. This is some program. Tomorrow, Marguerite Clark, in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and Pearl White, in "The Black Secret."

Monday, Anita Stewart in "Mind the Paint Girl," a story of the stage.

At a meeting of the board of Directors of the Tonopah Mining company of Nevada, held February 20, 1920, the transfer books were ordered closed at three o'clock on the afternoon of February 27 on account of annual meeting of stockholders occurring March 17, and to be opened at ten o'clock, morning of March 18, 1920.

NOTICE. We wish to express our heart felt thanks to our dear friends for the beautiful floral offerings and kind words of sympathy during illness and in our recent bereavement of husband and father.

MRS. GEORGE MEYER. And Family. ANTON MEYER, Brother. MR. AND MRS. M. SPRINGER. MRS. LOUIS GOLOB.

PASTORAL LETTER DEALS WITH LABOR CONDITIONS

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—An abstract of the pastoral letter of the archbishops and bishops of the United States, addressed to the clergy and laity of their charge, will be read in all the Catholic churches of the country tomorrow.

It is signed by James Cardinal Gibbons, archbishop of Baltimore, on behalf of himself and all the archbishops and bishops of the United States, numbering 101. This is the first time in thirty-five years, since the third plenary council of Baltimore in 1884, that the Catholic hierarchy has jointly issued a pastoral letter. Cardinal Gibbons is the sole survivor of the seventy-six bishops who signed the joint pastoral letter issued to the 7,000,000 Catholics of the United States in 1884. There are now 101 bishops, not counting auxiliary bishops and bishops without a see, who are appointed to do special work, and there are more than 20,000,000 Catholics in the United States. On the subject of labor, the pastoral reads:

"The disturbances from which our industries are suffering bring home to all the people, in direct and practical form, the need of thorough reformation. In part, the present situation is due to the war; but its real causes lie farther back in our industrial history. It is not merely that unwise policies have been adopted, but rather that these have been framed upon wrong principles and baseless assumptions."

"It is an error to assume that the issues involved are purely economic. They are, at bottom, moral and religious. Their settlement calls for a clear perception of the obligations which justice and charity impose."

"In urging their respective claims, the parties, apparently, disregard the fact that the people as a whole have a prior claim. The first step, therefore, toward correcting the evil is to insist that the rights of the community shall prevail, that law and order shall be preserved and that the public shall not be made to suffer while the contention goes on from one mistake to another."

"The failure to reach an agreement is due, in large measure, to the supposition that class is naturally hostile to class. In truth, each needs the other. Capital cannot do without labor, nor labor without capital. This is obvious; but the more important point is that capital and labor are bound by mutual obligations, not simply by mutual needs or interests."

"In this whole question, the moral value of man and the dignity of human labor are cardinal points. By treating the laborer as a man, not as a machine, the employed will make him a better workman. By respecting his own moral dignity as a man, the laborer will compel the respect of his employer and of the community."

"The right of labor to a living wage, with decent maintenance for the present and provision for the future, is generally recognized. The right of capital to a fair day's work or a fair day's pay is equally plain. To secure the practical recognition and exercise of both rights, good will, no less than adherence to justice, is required. Animosity and mistrust should first be cleared away. When this is done, when the parties meet in a friendly, rather than a militant spirit, it will be possible to effect a conciliation."

History's Limitations. History tries to portray occurrences just as they actually took place; but, when most successful, it can only portray them as they were perceived.—Max Nordau.
